Simple, Safe, Secure

Each year there are an alarmingly high number of accidents involving people falling out of windows.

Most worryingly is the increase in child injuries and fatalities.

Whether you are an organisation with a 'duty of care' obligation or

Regardless of the window or door design, there should never be an instance where a vulnerable child or person has access to a window or door opening greater than 4 inches (10 centimetres).

Channel Servicing's Window Safety Restrictor™ not only provides the safe maximum opening but does so by means of a locking device which can be either dead locked or left in the push to release mode (requiring a two handed operation).

a family with young children, window safety and security is of paramount importance.

Channel Servicing, a division of Channel Windows, are now able to offer an innovative solution – the Window Safety Restrictor™.

The restrictor fits all windows and door designs and is visibly mounted to provide instant reassurance of it's operation. The robust design ensures that the cable cannot be cut without the use of specialist tools.

Available in either black or white as standard and also any ral colour to suit, the WSR™ comes fully installed by our in house technicians and is offered with a full guarantee.
